We Build Beautiful Libraries

Knowledge gallery libraries must be beautiful.

Libraries should encourage coming back again by its interior equipment.

Pediko is setting up libraries out of routine standards.

We are designing environments where the individual who comes to the library is being happy.

Nowadays its easy to setting up or refurbishment of the library.

We apply each institution by designing its own physical characteristics, purpose of use and specific concepts suitable to the system of which it is adopted.

To take advantage of Pediko, it is enough to specify your current location, target market & customer, and your preferred library model.

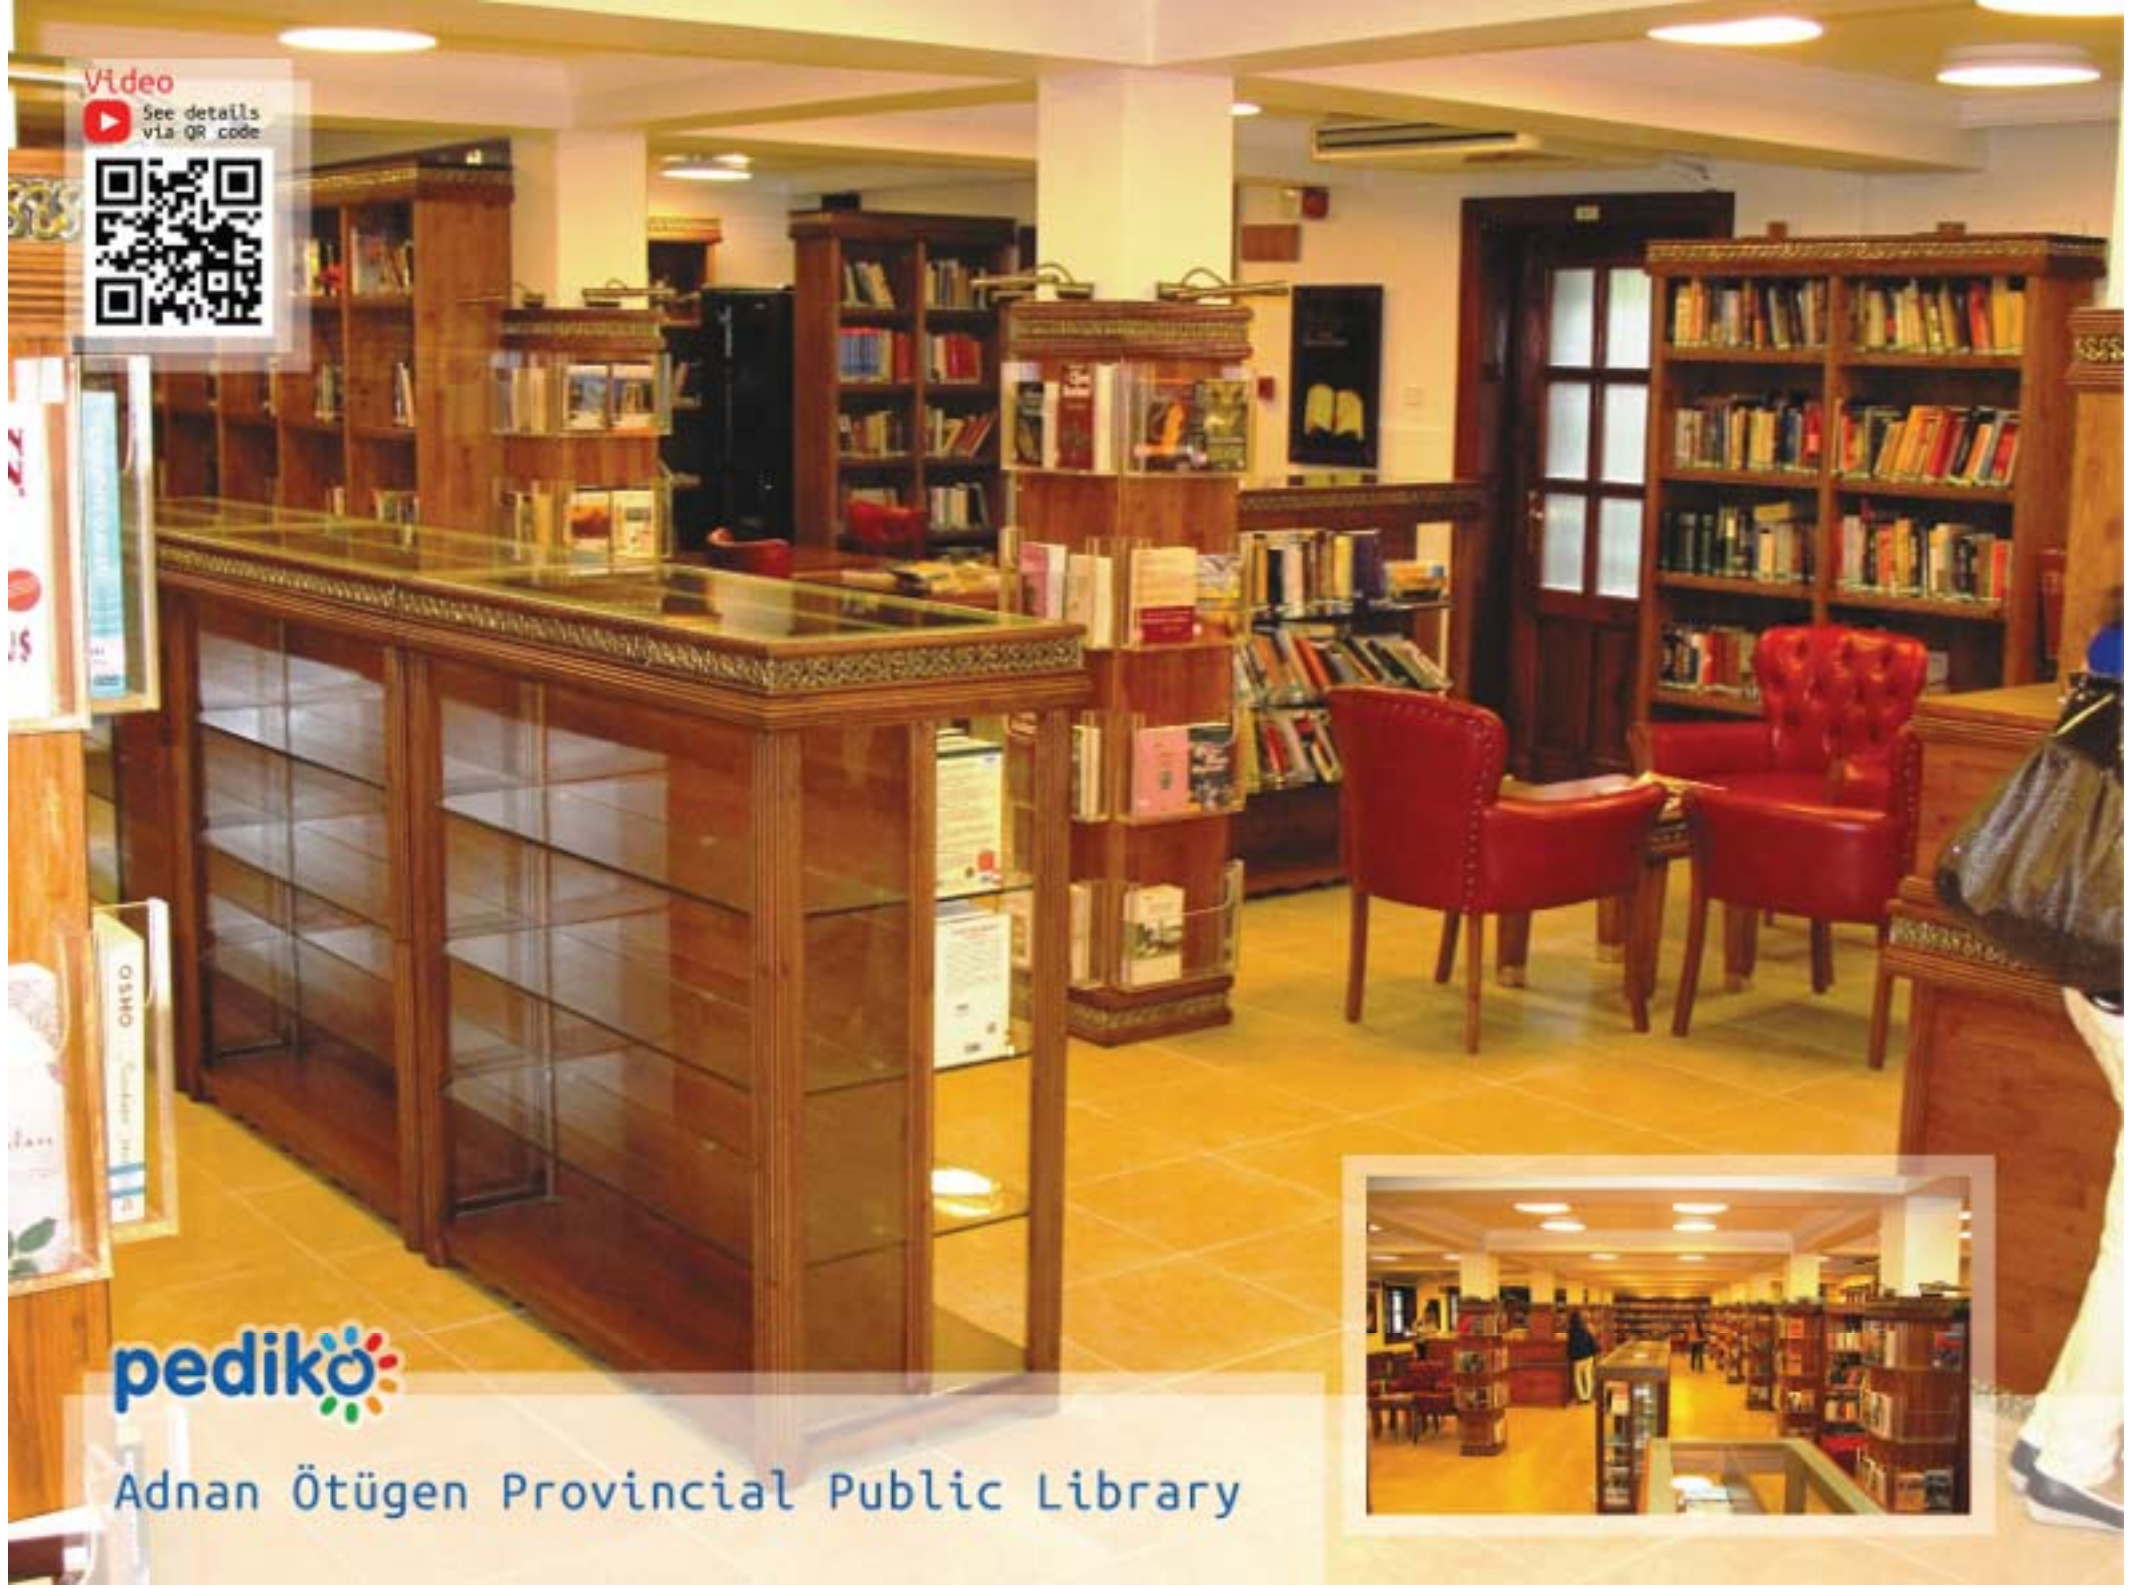

Pediko will prepare a comprehensive project in a short period of time and will make a presentation of design concept that is different from others.

Pediko establishes effective libraries.

We Build Beautiful Museums

The museums are a bridge in between the future from the past.

As Pediko, we create differences by going beyond traditional museum designs.

We imagine, design, manufacture and install themed museums.

You only need to define your target market and customer as well as site conditions for your museum construction, we will create a museum in a different way for you.

Creating dreams into reality from Pediko.

We Build Beautiful Kindergartens

How should a better kindergarten be?

For a good kindergarten, there are two important criteria. First, the adequacy of the physical conditions of the school; the second is the sufficiency of the educational staff. Training staff must be complete and in order to be able to learn the changing education concepts and education systems, in-service training should be provided at certain intervals. In general, "learning environments" should encourage children to learn about physical characteristics and interior equipment.

Pediko Where exactly is in this area?

Pediko can easily assume responsibility for the creation and training of educational staff after completing the interior and exterior equipment of any preschool institution to the smallest details. It systematically has the accumulation and power to organize the preschool education of a region and even the whole country. A kindergarten has all the equipment you might need. For each newly constructed school, it produces projects according to their needs completely. In this direction, hundreds of school equipment and education system applications have been made. In recent years, educators, architects and researchers have emphasized the importance of the physical environment in creating the behaviors of individuals by expressing "We shape the buildings and they tell us", suggesting that the design of the classes greatly influences the behavior of the children. The child's development is not solely dependent on its biological properties or environment. The child and the physical field affect each other at some point in time. Qualifications of educational environment; children will have an important influence on interaction and harmony with other elements such as school, teacher, friend. Because of this, the physical equipment of the schools is very important in terms of the qualities of the educational environment. PEDIKO is ready to present you a comprehensive project in a short period of time and to make the necessary physical equipment by designing a different concept to you from your similar ones. PEDIKO creates effective learning environments.
